You may have been advised that you need to have bowel surgery and an ileostomy or an internal pouch formed. You may already be living with an ileostomy or an internal pouch or caring for someone who is.

Surgery can lead to feelings such as confusion, isolation or anger. It's a time when support from others who understand, who are living life after surgery, can make a difference.

IA offers local and national support where our volunteers are themselves living life with an ileostomy or an internal pouch. Living life to the full, enjoying the things that illness has often deprived them of or made it difficult to achieve.

Everyone has concerns following surgery. No matter how big or small you think they are, we can help. You might be thinking...

- How will I manage?
- When can I return to work?
- What about all the things I enjoy like holidays, sports, socialising and eating out with friends?

Don't let living with a stoma or an internal pouch hold you back from enjoying all the things you love to do.

Fair Processing Notice: Summary

What data we hold

If you join our organisation we will collect your contact details, the medical information you provide us with and your bank details so that we can take payment.

How we use your personal data

We use your personal data to assist with membership services. We also process personal data of a medical nature in order to help you and make your membership useful and meaningful. The collection of your medical information will be by your explicit consent. We will share your information with your local IA member organisation. IA will send regular communication to you regarding your membership such as renewal reminders, information and awareness events etc. We never share your details with companies providing goods and services, however from time to time you may receive information from them, but this will have been sent to you by IA on their behalf.

Your rights

You have the right to access, correct, sometimes delete and object to our processing of your personal information. You have the right to withdraw consent, where consent was previously given.

Our Fair Processing Notice(s) are available in full at www.iasupport.org/privacy and explain how we collect and use your personal information. Copies are also available by writing to the address below. If you want to get in touch our Data Protection Officer can be reached by email at dpo@iasupport.org or by post at: IA national office, Danehurst Court, 35-37 West Street, Rochford, Essex SS4 1BE.
